

ALL ABOUT... JO MAY

JO May teaches and runs a livery yard near Wedmore in Somerset. She currently has three horses to event – Faere Vision, who is by the great Ben Faerie, plus two pre-novices.

However, Jo hasn't enjoyed the best of luck at four-star level with Faere Vision, who is owned by her father, Peter May. In 2005 the pair went to Luhmuhlen but the horse had to be withdrawn due to lameness. He was sidelined for the rest of that year and then this season Jo withdrew him after the dressage at Badminton because of the hard ground.

Jo has owned Faere Vision since he was two and has taken him through the eventing ranks herself, their best performance to date being a sixth placing at Blenheim last season.

"He really is my horse of a lifetime," said Jo, who admits that she would love to add some other eventers to her string.
